Reardon-Vadner.

A very pretty but plain wedding occurred this morning at Notre Dame church. Miss Agnes E. Reardon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Reardon, and Charles S. Vadner were married there by Rev. Father Jeannotte. Nuptial mass was celebrated and a great many friends and relatives observed the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Kate Schumer of Pittsfield and the best man was Dr. Edward E. Vadner, a cousin of the groom.

A wedding breakfast was served at the house of the bride's parents at 53 Church street by Caterer McNeill. The house was artistically trimmed for the occasion. A number of relatives and very intimate friends offered their congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Vadner have gone on a wedding trip and on their return will make their home on Pleasant street. They received many valuable and useful presents.

The bride is an estimable young woman and the daughter of highly respected parents. She occupies a prominent position in the social circles of the town and has many and close friends. Her education was received in North Adams schools. Mr. Vadner is a rising young business man. He is the son of Samuel Vadner, one of the most honored business men of this town. He has spent some time west in the study of mineralogy and is a competent assayer. Mr. Vadner will probably follow his father's business in this town and locate permanently here. His prospects are bright and his married life should surely be happy. That it may be so is the wish of all who know him and his bride.

Richmond--Feeley.

A quiet wedding of local interest occurred at Pittsfield today at 11.45 o'clock, when Fred E. Richmond of this town and Miss Elizabeth Feeley of Pittsfield were united in marriage at the bride's home on Summer street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Davis, pastor of the First Congregational church of Pittsfield, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. A collation was served, after which a briefly wedded couple departed for a brief tour at the end of which they will make their home in this town, where Mr. Richmond holds a responsible position in J. M. Darcy's hardware store. He is the youngest of fine business ability and the highest personal character, and his bride is an accomplished, popular and most estimable young lady. The couple have the hearty congratulations of a large number of friends.

Kelly-McGann.

Miss Bridget Kelly and Terrance McGann of Adams were married last night at St. Francis paragon. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home on Franklin street. Miss Kelly is a well known young woman who has many friends. Mr. McGann is a respected citizen of Adams. The best wishes of many friends attend the young couple.

In the District Court.

The first day in the new district court was not a very busy one. This morning there was a lone Italian accused of drunkenness. He was given the name Philip Pisturno but it is doubtful if ever such sounds were uttered in Humbert's land. He was fined $2.05.

To be Buried Here.

The remains of Mrs. Duncan D. Farml, whose death was noticed in this paper yesterday, will arrive from New York Friday afternoon at 2.35 o'clock and the funeral service will be held at 3 o'clock the same day at the Congregational church.

Archibald Michaels died at the home of his son, John Michaels, on Montgomery street this morning, aged sixty-four years. The funeral will occur Thursday morning from St. Francis church.

Walter Pike was surprised at his home on East Quincy street last evening by a company of his young friends, who presented him with a fine study chair. Refreshments were served and the young people spent a very happy evening.

Mrs. Healin has moved into her new house on South street.

Women's Progress.

ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—The exercises attending the formal opening of the Woman's building at the exposition began yesterday afternoon. Mrs. R. C. Peters presented the complete building with its exhibits to Mrs. Joseph Thompson, president of the woman's board, who, in behalf of the board, accepted the building in an appropriate address. John T. Graves was the orator of the day.

Sealers Seized.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Captain Hooper, in command of the patrol boat in Behling sea, reports the seizure of two sealing vessels for violation of the Paris award. The first vessel seized was the British schooner E. B. Marvin, taken within the 60-mile zone on a charge of using flourmills. The second vessel was the American sealer Louis Olsen, charged with not being duly licensed.

Last of Surprise and Magellan.

HALIFAX, Oct. 1.—Schooner Magellan, Cape Breton for Yarmouth, with a cargo of coal, went ashore at Shit-in island, and became a total wreck. The crew were saved. Schooner Surprise, from Halifax with a Montreal cargo, is a total wreck on the coast of Newfoundland. The crew were also saved.

Hard Nut to Crack.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Wong Kim Ark came here recently from China, demanding a landing on the ground that he is a native of California. The collector of the port, while admitting his nativity, refused him landing, claiming he is not an American citizen. The courts will decide the matter.

Steamer Sunk.

GLASGOW, Oct. 1.—Steamer Wallachia struck the rocks on Beacon Perch in the Clyde and bounded off and sank. All on board were saved. The Wallachia was a wooden screw steamer of 124 tons.

A Day of Rest.

ATLANTA, Oct. 1.—The question of Sunday opening of the exposition was settled by an overwhelming vote against it at the directors' meeting yesterday.

Disruption Threatened.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Oct. 1.—The attacks upon the Catholic party continue, and it is believed that the whole government is on the eve of disruption.

NOTCH POLLUTED.

Some Things Investigators Saw on the Water Shed Saturday.

FILTH CARRIED INTO THE BROOK.

The Water Supply Polluted by Oozings From Out Houses and Farm Buildings. Streams Run Down the Hill Burdened with Foul Matter.

Dr. George F. Simpson and F. P. Pearson were surprised at the analysis of the Notch water made by Prof. Harris, principally at the large amount of chlorine found in the sample, and reasoned that there must be some dangerous source of contamination in the Notch water shed. They decided to make a tour of investigation and went up to the Notch Saturday afternoon accompanied by John Martin of the TRANSCRIPT. That evening the party held a meeting in the TRANSCRIPT office at which James E. Hunter and N. B. Flood attended, they being a committee appointed by the board of trade to consider the purity of the water supply. This committee had called upon Dr. Simpson previous to the Notch excursion and was glad to listen to the report of the afternoon's investigation. For an hour he talked over Mr. Pearson briefly reported to the board of trade committee when it arrived. The journey of the investigators, their findings and unanimous opinion is substantially as follows:

The first doubt settled was concerning the rules, if any, those in charge of the reservoir construction had enforced regarding sanitary conditions there, for the number of persons working at the dam almost equals the population of a small village. It was learned from Superintendent Whitney that an order was strictly enforced which kept the territory above the dam absolutely clean as far as the reservoir builders were concerned. This being settled a journey was made up the road from the dam towards the "Gee-lows pipe" and alarming conditions were found.

The first pollution met with was at the school house which, roughly speaking, stands opposite the dam. The usual rural conveniences that are found at almost all country school houses are attached to this one and no doubt are incompatible with pure water in the dam.

As all those who have ever visited the Notch know, the brook flows through a deep valley almost a ravine at the location of the great dam, which is simply the raising up of an obstruction in the valley to keep the brook's water back in storage. The road runs along almost parallel with the brook not much more, if any more than 200 yards up the hillside. The school house stands on the side of the road next to the dam, which may be called the lower side, and any deposit found about the house would be washed readily down into the valley and certainly contaminate the water in the reservoir. Should a pupil attending school and suffering from typhoid fever in its incipient stage use these conveniences there would be little doubt but the typhoid bacillus would be carried to the water below.

The danger in those conveniences lies not only in their use by residents, but also in their use by strangers, who may consider them public property. In such promiscuous use there lies, perhaps, the greater danger.

A little farther up the road is the Eddy farm. Mr. Eddy's farm house and barn yard with his barns and out houses are on the lower side of the road. Just as the house is approached there is quite a large volume of spring water flowing out of a pipe on the upper side of the road and finding its way down near the barn yard to the Notch brook at the foot of the hill. This stream on its course, spread over considerable space as it is, must carry with it much defiling matter left by the farm animals. But in the barn yard proper there is another spring emptying itself. This water flows through a pipe into a barrel and flows over on the ground. It runs out under the fence, near which there is a broad water covered space to which it appears animals come to drink, and then spreads over the meadow or pasture land picking up filth and carrying it to the brook. Whatever matter there is in or around the barnyard that is soluble must be carried by these streams and by rains down into the water that is to be stored for domestic purposes.

The last house on the road is the Wilbur farm house. This house is beautifully situated on the upper side of the road and would seem to be an adornment to the landscape and not a menace to health. But here was found the most nauseating and perhaps dangerous conditions of all. The barnyard and out-buildings stand below the house on the side of the road opposite to it and do not appear to have any direct communication with the brook. There are a number of streams flowing past Mr. Wilbur's house down to the brook and on the brink of one is built the out-house for the use of the family and boarders. The construction and location of this house makes little attention necessary in respect to cleaning, for the water of the stream, when it is swollen to any degree by a recent rain, washes away the excreta that pours down the brink when the water is low or absent. When observed by the investigating party there was no water in the course and there was a deposit accumulating for the cleansing powers of the next freshet, which probably came Sunday evening from the heavy showers. Situated as that little house is oozings and matter from it must reach the town's drinking water and be served up from the faucet in nearly every kitchen.

These are some of the particular things noticed; the general condition is bad. The deposits in the farm yards that are piled up layer by layer in the snow during winter must to a great degree be carried down in the spring's thaws. Manure spread upon the meadow must have much washed out from it down the hill by rains. The out-houses spoken of cannot be so placed that matter from them will not be carried to and make impure the water supply. From these other causes the water in the small Notch reservoir looked very repulsive Saturday. There was a heavy scum over the surface wherever it was transparent enough to admit of the bottom being seen filthy looking green matter was observed. As one of the party said, one would go thirsty before dipping water from that reservoir to drink.

When Mr. Flood and Mr. Hunter had heard the story of the ride through the Notch Mr. Flood said he would present the matter to the prudential committee. It will be laid before the board of trade and some steps may be taken to abate the nuisances.

SAND SPRINGS WATER.

A New Use is Found in Its Healing and Healthful Properties.

To what beneficent uses the water of Sand Springs cannot be put would be difficult to say. It is known to be good for the inner and outer man,—good to look at, good to taste, good to bathe in, and now it has been made good for the toilet. The enterprise of Dr. Bragg of this town has brought out the Sand Springs toilet water, prepared by the Sand Springs Toilet Water Co. It is artistically put up in a handsome bottle, and if mankind delights in a toilet preparation that is pure and sweet and leaves the human skin soft and healthy, the Sand Springs toilet water deserves popularity and a wide demand, and the Sand Springs Toilet Water company of North Adams deserves success and patronage. The article is a good thing and the public will help push it along.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

A Photographer's Studio Badly Damaged by the Flames.

Fire broke out last night about 10.20 o'clock in J. W. Dyer's photograph gallery on Eagle street and soon blazed up considerably. It was discovered soon after the first indications showed outside and an alarm was rung. The firemen responded very promptly, but had much difficulty in getting at the blaze. The roof was first gained but the flames could not be readily reached from that. The front door was securely fastened and resisted considerable pressure. In a very short time, however, the streams were flowing and the blaze was extinguished. The cause of the fire is a little in doubt, but it seems it lay in a lamp in the photographer's studio. The contents of the studio were destroyed. The building, which is owned by E. D. Angell, was badly damaged. The water ran down into the store beneath which is now unoccupied except with samples of C. H. Cutting's garments. The walls of the store were much damaged by water. The total loss is estimated at $1600, partially insured.

Y. M. C. A.

It is in its New Home but Not Yet Settled.

The Young Men's Christian association moved yesterday into its new home, the A. C. Houghton house at the corner of Summer and Morris streets. The directors held a meeting last evening. The resignation of Charles K. Millard from the board was accepted with regret and T. W. Sykes was elected to fill the vacancy.

It will take some time to furnish the rooms and get them in order, but when all is done they will make a pleasant and convenient home for the association. The large room to the right of the hall will be used as the members' parlor and the old library on the east side of the hall will be the reading room and the only one open to the public. The game room will be in the rear of the members' parlor and the secretary's office will be in the rear of the reading room.

The upper rooms will be rented for the present. Miss Allen's kindergarten school moved in today and occupies what was formerly the billiard room. Mr. Houghton kindly presented to the association all the chandeliers, curtains and draperies in the house, and also the kitchen range. The association has long waited for a home of its own, and now that this has been obtained it will soon be in better condition for doing its work than ever before.

ENDEAVOR CONVENTION.

An Important Gathering to be Held Soon at Pittsfield.

Pittsfield is to have another convention. On October 8 and 9 the Massachusetts State Christian Endeavor union will hold its annual convention in Pittsfield, and Pittsfield people are preparing to give the Endeavorers a hearty welcome. The convention committee has been making preparations since early in the summer and has everything well in hand, and indications point to the most successful convention ever held by Massachusetts union. The societies in the county have responded nobly with financial aid, and it is hoped that a large delegation from each society will attend the convention and contribute to its spiritual success, and carry home with them a zeal and enthusiasm for Christian service. The other Young People's societies of Pittsfield have entered heartily into the plans and works of the convention. The use of the Methodist church, the largest in the city, has been offered for the evening meetings and the offer has been accepted by the committee.

Among the more prominent speakers will be President Raymond of Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., Rev. H. A. Stimson, D. D., New York, Rev. John Barstow, Medford, Rev. F. L. Goodspeed, Springfield.

Among those who are special favorites upon the Christian Endeavor platform, and who will be heard on this occasion, are George W. Coleman, Miss Grace L. Hyde, Miss Emma D. Gates, William Shaw, William T. Ellis, Rev. F. S. Hurdnewell, Rev. E. P. Farnham, Mrs. Lillian E. Wilcox Miller and Dr. Francis E. Clark. The latter will conduct the closing consecration service in addition to an address.

Special railroad rates have been secured, tickets good, October 7 to 9, and returning, October 8 to 10. Points within 25 miles of Pittsfield two cents per mile with a minimum rate of twenty five cents.

Entertainment may be secured by addressing K. B. Millard, Pittsfield, chairman of the entertainment committee. The committee has made the following rates: Lodging fifty cents per night, meals thirty-five cents. At the principal hotels, Burbank house, The American house and the Mapewood accommodations may be secured at $2.50 and $3.50 per day.

This will be in Columbia opera house. An address will be given by Rev. F. Doyle of New York, a Paulist father, a man of marked ability and one who is very earnestly devoted to the temperance cause. He is secretary of the C. T. A. U. of America and has been the manager of its literary bureau.

Rev. Doyle is an eloquent speaker and it will be a treat to hear him. Local speakers will

SENATOR LAWRENCE'S VINDICATION.

The attempt to smother the candidacy of Senator Lawrence for the presidency of the senate has failed. It is a self-confessed failure. In fact, it is taken on the shape of a complete crawl—the crawling recession headed by the newspaper that started it followed in hot haste by the minor newspapers which took up the tellation, including a few organs which never fails to take advantage of filling its columns with any ill-smelling wind that may blow up a sensation or blast the political name of a public man, no matter how deserving he may be or how clean his record. We rejoice in this crawl. While Senator Lawrence needs no vindication, as the Transcript has said, yet we congratulate him that no newspaper, however anxious to believe any evil of a public man, cares to call him the prospective legislative catpaw of any corporation. The Springfield Republican, in whose columns this political myth first appeared, has come out untried and squarely, acknowledging the error of a correspondent, and said:

The Boston politician who was quoted by our Boston reporter, in other words, to the effect that A. C. Horton of North Adams has been doing active work in many quarters to secure the election of Judge Lawrence president of the senate, let his imagination supply the facts. Senator Lawrence is going to have a unanimous re-nomination from his district, and Mr. Horton does not wish to see him handicapped by any such baseless theories as this Boston politician is at present indulging in—it alone has its own feelings at being so entirely misinterpreted in this business.

And the other small fry papers, which all uncalled for, eagerly took up the baseless insinuation against Senator Lawrence and his friends, are now crying "Me too," and trying to get under cover as fast as possible. A more hurried and tumultuous crawl is hardly to be found in the annals of newspaper history.

We wish Senator Lawrence no more complete victory in his candidacy for the presidency of the senate than this victory against the first attempt to delaminate his political honor. But we do not wish for his honorable rivals in that contest any such ignominious and humiliating crawl as has been found necessary for the newspaper talent which last week made baseless charges against him or indulged in editorial insinuations that those charges were true. And the Transcript is pleased to close this second notice of the charges made against Senator Lawrence with the same words used on the day when our senator's political honor was called in question: "The article's insinuations are unfair and ungrounded." That position does not need further crawling.

MR. FULLER CAN, IF ANY MAN CAN.

[From Tuesday's Springfield Union.]

The political indications in Berkshire county this fall are such as to give the loyal Republicans plenty of assurance that they can throw the hats in the air with glee on the day after election. It looks like one grand Republican sweep up through the Berkshire hills including a big washout of the horrid office in which Sheriff Crosby will be swept away to pasture new on the crest of the biggest wave of all.

All eyes are turned upon the shrewdness and the nomination of the Republicans will go to Charles W. Fuller of North Adams, who is in reality the only candidate in the field, other men who have been mentioned being without backing to any considerable extent.

Mr. Fuller took his defeat with good grace three years ago and has gone into the fight this year determined to win out against his old opponent. There is no reason why Mr. Fuller cannot be elected this year, if the Republicans will support their own man, for Mr. Dallcut of South Egremont won over a good clean Democrat in the county commissionership contest a year ago and received a big majority.
The Republicans should be all the more ready to vote against Sheriff Crosby, who is a partisan of the most pronounced type, who has by his partisanship made himself odious to the best citizens of the county, than against a man like Mr. Ferry of Lee, who was defeated last year.
Sheriff Crosby is surrounded by a "ring" which it will be hard to smash, for every deputy in the county recognizes that this year's contest is a fight in the last ditch, and will be out hustling hard for his chief.

Place on top of this the widespread influence of John C. Crosby, the sheriff's ex-congressional son and the Chinese wall of influence which has been reared about the present sheriff as a protection from the onslaught of those who may wish to put him out of office and the Republicans of Berkshire county (are in the face but a few of the things which they must need shoulder to shoulder in the great contest of next November. If any man can beat Sheriff Crosby, Mr. Fuller can. He is especially qualified for the position, is a man who enjoys the highest respect and esteem of the community and will in every way make a popular and efficient sheriff. Let all the Republicans of Berkshire see it, that a year January 1, their county has a Republican sheriff.

CONDITIONS AT THE NOTCH.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the results of an intelligent investigation of conditions existing in the sources of the Notch reservoir water supply.

Those conditions appear alarming and repulsive. They are conditions that cannot be permitted to exist with safety to the town's health, and it is gratifying to know that the Board of Trade has already interested itself in the matter, and that the case is to be presented to the Prudential committee. There seems to be no laggard spirit among the leading citizens of the town to discover and remedy any cause of disease that may be lurking in our water supply, and there certainly is no lack of interest among all citizens in this vital question affecting the town's health and cleanliness.

There is one point of special consideration about the contaminating sources already existing at the Notch. As bad as they are now, they will be still worse when the new reservoir is complete and the larger source of water supply will be subject to the same disease-breeding conditions. The danger will be increased in proportion to the larger amount of water used and the longer time it is held in the larger reservoir to develop the source of disease in it.

The condition of things at the Notch requires the immediate attention of the very men who seem willing to give it, namely, the Prudential committee. This is right. If the revelations of the investigation made Saturday at the Notch are true, an immediate remedy is needed. If a false alarm has been sounded, that fact should be made known. But the case looks as if prompt sanitary measures are needed at once at the Notch.

CREDIT TO THE SELECTMEN.

Last evening there was a traveling show to exhibit in this town as advertised, but the exhibition was forbidden by the selectmen. The name of this troupe was suggestive of things racy rather than nice, and the advertisements of the show pointed out its indecent nature. Added to this the selectmen learned that elsewhere the troupe had earned an untoward reputation, and that its effect was to de-base and degrade the minds of spectators, accordingly our selectmen notified the troupe last evening that it could not show in this town. Good for them. They will be supported in their action in this matter by every right-minded man and by the fathers and mothers of this town. This sort of action taken in behalf of decency and purity, will soon bring about that state of affairs when such "shows" will not approach this town with the expectation of being able to "exhibit." This is the sort of action in these matters the town has been waiting for. Good.

The Eagle's suggestion that Lawyer Charles H. Wright be made one of the Republican candidates for representative in this district, has met with instant favor.
Mr. Wright is recognized as one of the most promising young men in the district and is admirably qualified for legislative work. Many leading Republicans have expressed pleasure at the suggestion that he be nominated for the house, and his candidacy will be sure to grow in popularity. —Pittsfield Eagle.

The Transcript would not presume out of good taste to urge the good point of any Pittsfield candidate for the legislature. But it can testify to the truthfulness of the Eagle's claims for Mr. Wright's ability, and we would share the pride of having such a Berkshire representative in the General Court.

The formal challenge for America's cup is on its way to America, addressed to the secretary of the New York Yacht club.

1. On behalf of the Royal Victoria Yacht club and in the name of Charles D. Ross, a member of the club, challenge to sail a series of matches for the America's cup in 1896, with the cutter yacht, Dissonant, last water line length eighty feet. 1. To the crew of this challenge being accepted, I should be much obliged if you would kindly inform me what dates, courses and conditions the New York Yacht club will propose for the races. I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant, PERRY J. HELLERSON,
Secretary Royal Yacht club.

Chicago is suffering from another typhoid fever epidemic. The disease is most prevalent in Lake View, where on Saturday last number of sewers empty into the lake and the drinking water is drawn from the lake, running only a mile out into the lake. In that section of the city supplied by water taken from the two and four-mile tunnels the disease is not prevalent. All the advice the physicians can give the people in the emergency is to boil the water. Otherwise, as long as they have to drink their own sewage, typhoid fever is to be expected.

The present discussion of the sanitary conditions and water supply of this town going on in these columns is not made with a spirit of opposition or criticism of any association or any part of the medical fraternity. It is made with the single purpose of aiding in the discovery of the cause of disease conditions now existing here.

The men and newspapers that tried to blast Senator Lawrence's chances for the presidency of the senate by representing him as a cunning corporation tool and his friends as without scruple or honor, are now scratching their heads and saying with full Parrot after her fight with the dog: "Confound me, I talk too much."

Perhaps now some others, our despictable correspondent had better try to traduce Senator Lawrence's candidacy for the senate's presidency. And then along with local carnal lovers will have to beat an unseemly retreat.

At last this town is thoroughly aroused as to the cause of the prevalence of autumnal sickness and typhoid fever. This is right. Now let there be no petty jeal-ousies, but a combined effort to find the cause of disease here.

Senator Lawrence's political foes and all-carnal-hunters will have to try again.
It isn't so easy to smother a clean man's skirt or throw mud broadcast over his friends. It generally results in a humiliating crawl.

Senator George P. Lawrence comes out of the first attempt to smother his character and injure his political career with clean skirts and flying colors. Let the political harpies try some other dodge.

Miss Leslie P. Russell and Mrs. Charlotte Whitaker left today for Salina, Kan., Mrs. Whitaker's home. Miss Russell will spend the winter there as Mrs.
Whitaker's guest.

W. A. Smith went to Lebanon Springs, N. Y., today, to attend the funeral of his uncle, Bishop Carter.

Charles Card and Miss Ollie Burrows of Grafton are visiting Mr. Card's brother, Dr. Card.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Favorable Conditions For Harvesting Products of the Farm.

But Little Damage Reported From Light Frosts.

Showers Have Had but Little Effect Upon Wells and Streams.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The weekly weather bulletin of the New England service for the week ending Sept. 30 is as follows: Except along the eastern Massachusetts coast, about one inch of rain fell over most of New England during the week just passed. The showers on the 26th were severe in northern districts, and gave a considerable downfall of rain locally, while on the night of the 26th one inch or more of rain fell in southwestern districts. The rain has greatly benefited grass roots and newly seeded land, but reports indicate that it has had but little effect on water supplies. The correspondent at Winslow, Me., reports that he never saw the Kennebec river lower. The observer at Albany says the Hudson and its tributaries are very low. The weather during the week has been much more fall-like, but without damaging frosts. It has been fine weather for harvesting and for curing corn and other crops. The storm of the 26th was very severe in the three northern states, and considerable damage was done by wind and lightning. The correspondent at Stratford, N. H., states that much hail fell, and the heavy gale wrecked fences and tipped over sheds and corn houses; buildings were burned and cattle killed by lightning. The bulletin of next week will be the last for the season, and will be mostly in the nature of a summary of the weather and crop conditions for the season.

Temporary Relief From Showers.
Heavy local thunder showers occurred in parts of Maine on the 26th and moderate rains on the 26th, doing great good wherever they occurred. About one inch of rain fell during the week at Eastport and Portland, but in northern sections the amount was generally less, while in many towns all crops are still suffering from rain. The rain that has come, while of a benefit to grass and field crops, has had but little effect on the rivers. Apples are dropping, root crops are maturing before reaching their growth and the ground is too dry for plowing, generally. Corn is drying off in excellent shape, and much of it is harvested. Light frosts occurred in places on Friday and Saturday mornings, but no damage of amount has been reported.

Good Harvesting Weather.
Favorable weather has prevailed in New Hampshire for harvesting during the past week, and corn cutting and apple picking have been pushed. Heavy local showers fell on Thursday, helping out late crops and doing much good to fall seeding, but not enough to affect the wells and streams to any great extent, the water supply being very low. The correspondent at Derry Depot reports that pastures are green and that cattle are getting good feed, but most observers report pastures badly dried and feed poor. Much more rain is needed before the ground freezes up. The temperature this week has been much lower than last, and light frosts occurred on the morning of the 28th. Apples are coloring up well. Reports from Cheshire county indicate that apples and pears are badly rusted.

Some Damage From Frost.
Light frosts occurred in Vermont on Saturday morning, but doing very little damage in most places. In the valleys in this state frosts have been quite severe, but a good many observers report corn and vines as green as ever and the late varieties growing well. Considerable rain fell on the 26th and again on the 28th, but the week has been favorable for work, and harvesting has been pushed. Corn is curing very nicely. Potatoes that had got their growth before the rust struck them are of good quality and generally sound, but the late ones are rotting badly in places. One correspondent in Addison county reports some pieces hardly worth digging, where two or three weeks ago there were no rotten ones to be found.

Fall Work Well Under Way.
Fine September weather has prevailed for the most part in Massachusetts during the week, and fall work has progressed nicely. A great part of it is now done, and crops are generally out of the way of damage by frost. Corn is nearly all cut, a good many potatoes dug and squashes gathered. Cranberry picking is progressing rapidly. One correspondent states that the recent hot week did much damage to the berries than did the frost prior to it. Tender varieties were badly cooked on the vines by the sun in many bags. Wells and streams continue low, and summer seedling of grass has been much injured by the dry weather. In many fields the seed came up poorly, and that which did come was burned by the hot sun. Apple picking is going on, and they are pronounced ripe than in usual in September. There are many warmy ones.

Wells Still Low.
Fully one inch of rain fell in the southern part of Rhode Island during the week, and a good deal of benefit has resulted to all grass roots and field crops, but much more is needed to have an appreciable effect on wells and streams. Harvesting is going on rapidly under most favorable conditions. The observer at Narragansett Pier reports potatoes badly injured by vine worms; one farmer reports 200 bushels destroyed by the pests.

Apples Dropping Badly.
The correspondent at Storrs, Conn., reports the 23d the hottest day of the season, but with much cooler weather during this week. The hot sun of last week has caused the sides of apples on the trees, causing quite a loss in places. Tomatoes were injured in the same way. The high winds of this week, following the hot weather, have caused apples to drop quite badly. Moderate showers fell over most of this state on the 26th and 27th, and a good rain occurred on the afternoon and night of the 29th, doing a great deal of good to grass roots, newly seeded grass and grain, and helping wells and streams to some extent. Harvesting is well under way, but there are a good many onions out yet and potatoes to be dug.

DEATH OF RODERICK

Will Result in Manslaughter Charge Being Brought Against Deamon.

DANFORTH, Me., Oct. 1.—John Roderick, who was shot near Chastanook lake several weeks ago, died at Oldtown yesterday from the result of his wounds. Deamon, who has been confined in jail here on the charge of assault on Roderick with a deadly weapon, will now be tried for manslaughter.

Deamon expresses much sorrow at the death of Roderick. He and Roderick were working together cutting meadow hay. On the day of the shooting a guide named Morrison came along with a supply of whisky, and they all got to drinking. After dinner Deamon and Roderick commenced to scuffle. They were all in the tent at the time. There was a rifle in the tent, and Morrison says that Deamon fired twice at Roderick. After Deamon sobored up he was told that he had shot Roderick, and he went down Moosehead lake and gave himself up.

Morrison, the only man who can testify to the shooting, is said not to bear too good a reputation, and there is no certainty that Deamon actually did the shooting.

NEW ENGLAND'S PETS

Finished in Fifth Place in the Race For the League Pennant.

Brooklyns Hold Same Position in Final Standing.

How the Other Clubs Lined Up at the Close of the Season.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The championship season of 1895 of the National League and American Association of Professional Baseball clubs is a thing of the past. Baltimore wins the pennant for the second consecutive time, with the other clubs trailing along in the following order: Cleveland, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, New York, Washington, St. Louis, Louisville. When the season opened, on the 18th of April, the Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, New York and Pittsburgh were regarded by baseballdom the only ones in the pennant class, with Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago and Cincinnati as dark horses, though the Phillies had many admirers who thought their batting ability would land them in first place. As it was, the Quakers marred an otherwise brilliant record by falling down ignominiously before Baltimore in their last series together.

The Chicago team captured the position they fought for, and Anson is probably $2000 richer by the result. Of the clubs in the National league that have been a failure this year, Boston, Louisville and Cincinnati are the most prominent.

The home team have tied the Brooklyns for fifth place, which is another remarkable epoch in the struggle.

The Temple cup series between Baltimore and Cleveland will begin at Baltimore. From every indication the Orioles should win, as they are in better condition than the Spiders.

Cleveland a Good Second.
The Cleveland team finished a good second, which is as high as the team has got in a good many years. The position the Phillies gained is very commendable under the circumstances. Pittsburgh has managed to keep away from Cincinnati and New York, while the Giants win from the Giants by .04.

The New Yorks are at the foot of the club who have over 500. Baltimore has won the largest number of games, 87, but she is two games behind her record of last year. The New Yorks finished second last year with 88 games won, and the home team was third with 83 games to their credit.

Philadelphia finished one place better than last year, while Brooklyn, who was fifth last season, is tied for that place this year. The Cleveland were sixth and Pittsburgh seventh in the fight of last year, and Chicago was where New York is this year. St. Louis finished ninth and Cincinnati 10th.

Taking in the way the clubs finished last season, it will be seen that all of the western clubs, with the exception of St. Louis, have obtained better positions this year than last, which proves that the west is getting stronger every year in the game.

Washington was 11th last year, which is the only improvement in the eastern clubs, and this year the Senators managed to capture 10th place. Louisville finished the same this season as last.

It will not be known for some time yet what the Boston magnates intend to do and the new material they will have on the team.

Here is the final standing of the clubs:

| Club            | W. | L.  | P.  | Per  |
|-----------------|----|-----|-----|------|
| Baltimore       | 87 | 43  | 500 | 67.0 |
